

PLANS COMPLETED FOR FIRST BUILDING TO BE ERECTED ON WORLD'S FAIR GROUNDS

SERVICE BUILDING WHICH WILL BE FIRST STRUCTURE ERECTED ON PANAMA-PACIFIC EXPO. SITE.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 31.—Plans for the Service Building, the first structure to be erected on the Panama-Pacific International Exposition site at Harbor View, have been completed, and within the next week advertisements will be placed for bids for the construction of this important edifice.

This structure will be three stories in height and cost in the neighborhood of $60,000.00. It will be 150 feet square, with an interior court of 58 feet by 104 feet. It will face Fillmore street, and will be at least 200 feet West of that thoroughfare. The space between Fillmore street and the Portico of the structure will be beautified by gardens, fountain, and other landscape effects.

Through the center line of the entire court or lightwell is Francisco street, which, among other streets, has been closed by order of the Board of Supervisors.

It will be a frame structure, covered on the outside with stucco and plaster, and its appearance will recall the early California style of architecture. It will also harmonize with the other buildings on the Exposition site.

The first floor will be occupied by the Auditor, Treasurer, Railroad Installation of Exhibits, Admissions and Concessions, Information and Telegraph Departments. The Police Department and Commander of the Guards will occupy the entire North wing on the first floor; the South wing will be used by the Emergency Hospital Department. This hospital will be modern in every respect, and will have seven wards and twelve beds. There will be three fire-proof vaults in the Treasurer's Department, and a central fire-alarm switchboard on this floor.

The second floor of the North wing will be devoted to the Architectural Department, and the second floor of the South wing to the Engineering, Mechanical, Electrical and Civil Engineering Departments.

The main wing of the building on this floor will be occupied by the Director of Work and his assistants; also the offices of the Advisor and Chiefs of Sculpture, Color and Decorations.

The third floor will be used for blue-printing, Photograph Department and Color Studios.

It is expected that this building will be completed for the first of the year, and many of the Departments will immediately take up their new quarters.

Remarkable progress is being made by the Standard American Dredging Company in raising the grade of the Exposition site where the State Buildings, Drill Grounds and Live Stock Exhibits are to be located.

Within a period of six days the big Dredger "South Bay" has pumped 30,000 yards of sand from the Bay on to the site, and at the present time many of the signs that were erected to denote the locations for buildings that had been selected by Governors of various States, are practically resting on the new fill, as these signs are six feet in height visitors to the site can judge the amount of fill that has been deposited.

The contract known as No. 3, which was let to the Standard American Dredging Company, calls for a filling in of the Presidio lands so that the grade will be two and one-half feet above its former level.

The work of filling in that has been in progress on the Harbor View site, West of Webster street, covers an area of seventy-one acres, and is almost completed. The San Francisco Bridge Company, which has this contract, has pumped nearly a million cubic yards of silt from the Bay on to the site, and it is now possible to walk from Webster to Baker streets, whereas before a small boat would have been necessary to cover the distance.

A series of target tournaments, interstate, national and international, is to be one of the most powerful attractions of the Panama-Pacific Industrial Exposition, to be held in this city during 1915.

The leading shooting societies of California have formed a corporation under the laws of the State, with a capital of $20,000, known as the International Shooting Festival Association of 1915, to promote the manly art of target shooting in all its branches, establish a federation of all shooting clubs, organizations and associations existing in California or in other localities that may elect to join the federation.

The object of this corporation is to arrange, supervise and manage a series of target tournaments during an interstate and international shooting festival, to be held in or near San Francisco in connection with the Universal Exposition of 1915.

Tournaments and contests are to be arranged for representatives of the armies and navies of all nations, militia, police and shooting societies from all parts of the globe, and for firearms of all descriptions, so as to attract marksmen of all nations.

Trophies, medals and cash prizes will be offered of such value that marksmen will be justified in coming from distant lands to take part in the tournament. Suitable ranges will be provided for all contests, and a sufficient number of targets to accommodate any number of competitors.

San Francisco, California and the whole of the Pacific slope will furnish a large contingent of expert marksmen; among them some who have made world records in competition with the best shots of the world.

This would show that Gilbert tried all he knew to beat Merlingo if possible.

After the race I handed him back his ten dollars, together with ten which I paid him for riding the race.

This should be some proof that the horses raced on their merits. Strawberry, Charlie Hashimoto's entry, won the Japanese race easily in 27 seconds. The Japanese like racing and horses and by encouraging the interest of this large class of Honolulu's residents a large Japanese attendance will result at future race meetings.

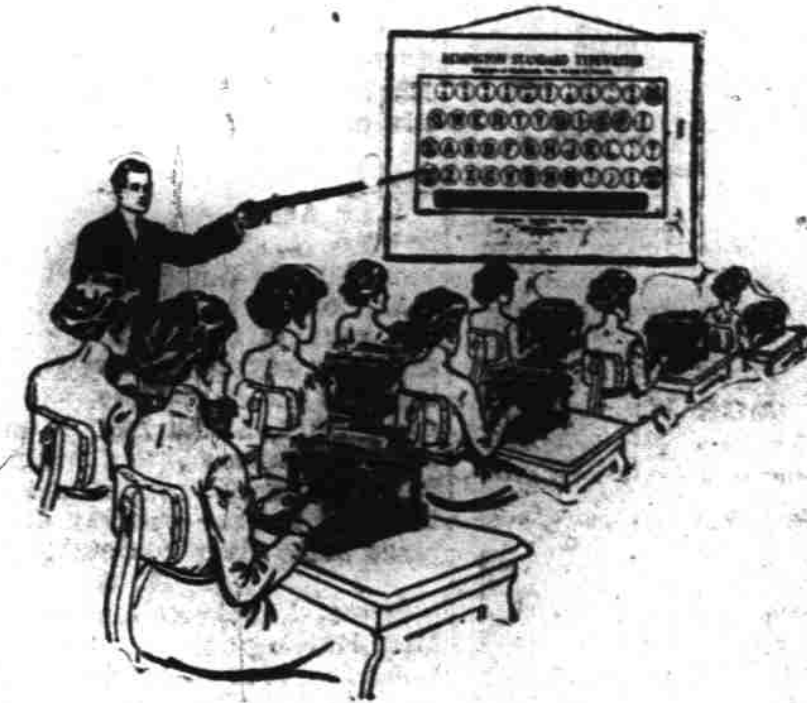

Several other events served to amuse the many thousands of people who were assembled at the park and who saw the conclusion of a program of racing events which would compare creditably with any which has ever been pulled off at Kapiolani park, even in its palmiest days.

certitude of the flitting and accuracy of the throwing was profoundly impressive to a connoisseur. Only in a certain lack of elegance in gesture, and in the unshaven downiness of the ground on which it was played, could this game be said to be inferior to the noble spectacle of cricket. In broad dramatic quality I should place it above cricket, and on a level with Association football.

In short, I at once became an enthusiast for baseball. For nine innings I watched with interest, until a vast purple shadow, creeping gradually eastward, had obscurely veiled the sublime legend of the three-dollar hat with the five-dollar look. I began to acquire the proper cries and shouts and maniacs, and to pass comments on the play which I was assured were not utterly foolish. In my honest yearning to feel myself a habitue, I did what everybody else did and even attacked a morsel of chewing-gum; but all that a European can say of this singular substance is that it is, finally, eternal and unconquerable. One slip I did quite innocently make. I rose to stretch myself after the sixth inning instead of half-way through the seventh. Happily a friend with marked presence of mind pulled me down were about an eighth from home. Major got on even terms and after racing side by side for a few jumps Unqua was very willing that Major Collier should take command. He did, and went in to an easy victory.

Harness Races Good.
The fourth race was a beautiful contest for two heats between Silva's Harold D. and Ryan's Chappo, the former winning handily in three straight heats, the third contender, Syd Abbott, miserably outclassed, was shut out in the first heat. That Syd Abbott has no business on a race track racing was very evident.

The fifth race was one grand scramble of polo ponies for a cup. Billy, ridden by Lieut. Andrews being the winner.

In this race the Lieutenant showed that he is some race rider, he riding as good as a professional.

The sixth race was a "free-for-all" dash of a half mile. The horses were sent off to a fine start, Merlingo in a few jumps forging two lengths in the lead, but had only gone an eighth of a mile when Merlingo seemed to get into trouble and before they had got to the head of the stretch he was four lengths in the rear. Lizzie Moore and Oneonta racing together, as they turned into the stretch Oneonta forged ahead and went on to a handy victory in the good time of 49 seconds, which was a repetition of her performance in race. Without accident, Oneonta is race to make a high class race horse, his two performances stamping him as a real good one.

The seventh and ninth races were hollow victories for Major and conclusively stamp him as the champion Hawaiian bred horse racing on the islands today.

The eighth was an easy victory for Merlingo.

The tenth was won by Merlingo after a sharp struggle with Lizzie

Moore, who compelled Merlingo to run the first half of this race in 48 1/2 seconds.

Lizzie Moore showed considerable class and speed in both of her races and with continuous training and good management should develop into a first-class race mare.

A Great Race.

The eleventh race was probably one of the prettiest and severest struggles ever seen on Kapiolani, Major Collier and Merlingo being the principals. Major, ridden by Gilbert, J. Fernandez rider, a jockey who has a national reputation and who has ridden horses to victory in many of the most celebrated races run in the United States. The race was a mile dash, the only mile running race on the program. The two horses got away to a nice start, Gilbert taking a nice, steady hold of the Major and both horses going out to set a heart-breaking pace, which will readily be seen by the time made at each of the quarters as the race progressed: first quarter in 26, the half 51 1/2, the three-quarters in 1:18 and the mile in 1:45. When it is considered that during all of the racing of previous years over Kapiolani Park only two other horses have beaten that time, viz., Mr. Horner's Angle A. and Mr. Valentine's Speedy Amarino, some estimate of the excellence of this performance may be made, and especially as it was after each of the horses had had three previous hard races.

It has been insinuated that in this race the Major was pulled. When such a statement is made in regard to so grand a struggle as that which took place between these two equine champions in their final race of Labor Day it can only be made by a person who is maliciously ignorant and positively unfit and incompetent to make any intelligent comment on a horse race.

The following account of an incident relative to this race, which took place as the horses were going to the post, will further establish the fact that the Major was trying every inch of the road.

As Mr. Gilbert was about to mount Major he handed a friend of his ten dollars to bet on his mount. I told him that he was throwing his money away, that I did not think Major could beat Merlingo. He replied that he would show me I was wrong and insisted on betting the ten. I then said to him: "Well, if you persist in throwing your money away, I will take your bet." With that he handed me the ten dollars.

to my seat again before I had had time fully to commit this horrible sacrilege. When the game was finished I surged on the enormous ground, and was informed by inner-ring experts of a few of the thousand subtle and lastly, I was flung up on to the Elevated platform, littered with pieces of newspaper, and through a landscape of slovenly apartment-houses, punctuated by glimpses of tremendous quantities of drying linen, I was shot out of New York toward a calm weekend.

P. O. SERVICE ON SUNDAY IS MUCH RESTRICTED

Postmaster Pratt has sent to the Star-Bulletin the following copy of a letter which affects Honolulu's post-office service on Sunday:

Postoffice Department, Washington, August 24, 1912.

Sir: The postoffice appropriation act for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1912, provides:

"That hereafter postoffices of the first and second classes shall not be open on Sundays for the purpose of delivering mail to the general public, but this provision shall not prevent the prompt delivery of special delivery mail."

Under this law you will close the general delivery, carriers' windows, and lock boxes and discontinue all deliveries by carriers on Sunday. You will note, however, that special delivery mail is excepted and you will therefore arrange to have on duty a sufficient force to handle this mail matter promptly.

The Department desires to reduce Sunday work to the minimum so that as many of the employees as possible may enjoy a complete day of rest on Sunday. You should, therefore, require only a sufficient number of clerks to report for duty on that day in order that transit mail and the mail collected for dispatch may be handled without delay. If no mail is dispatched on Sunday a very early collection should be made on Monday morning and the mail for local delivery distributed before the carriers leave for their first trip.

Respectfully,
C. P. GRANDFIELD,
First Assistant Postmaster General.

WILL PREACH ON 'MODERN COWARD'

Union Services to End With the Meeting at Bijou Tomorrow Night

The series of union meetings which the Inter-Church Federation has been conducting at the Bijou theatre for the past six weeks on Sunday evenings, will be brought to a close with tomorrow night's services.

Rev. Frank L. Goodspeed of Oakland, who has more than pleased the audiences who have attended, will give as his closing address his sermon on "The Modern Coward." It goes without saying that Dr. Goodspeed has kept one of his strongest addresses for the last, and that so far as his part of the service is concerned, the Sunday night meeting should cap the climax in the series. A quartette consisting of Miss Edith Rosslyn Collais, Mrs. Charles S. Wright, Mr. Arthur Wall, and Mrs. George A. Brown will contribute several numbers and Miss Collais will be heard in a solo at this service for the first time since her return from her visit to the Coast.

The song service, beginning promptly at 7:40, will be in charge of Mr. Stanley Livingston. The general public is most cordially invited. This is in every sense a People's Service. Even those who are not in the habit of attending regularly any church service find themselves at home here.

FLY LEG FIGURES.

An exchange states that for several months an expert accountant searched the books of a grain company in St. Paul, Minn., for an error of an even $100. They spent much more than $100 in trying to trace the money. And then, after having gone over the books time and again, the accountant's pencil chanced to stop at an item of $140. The pencil point rested on the figure 1, when the figure suddenly broke in two and slid down the page. On examination it proved that the supposed figure 1 was a fly's leg. The fly had undoubtedly been crushed in the book when it was closed, and one of its legs had chanced to adhere to the page in such a way as to make the entry of $40 appear to be exactly $100 greater.
